Things I Have Seen and People I Have Known, Vol. 1 of 2 (Classic Reprint) George Augustus Sala

This book, I may respectfully remark, is not to be considered as constituting, in any sense, my Autobiography. I have been engaged for a long time past in writing an account of my own life; I am approaching the end of my task; and I hope that ere many months have expired, a work which I have contemplated for at least twenty years will be ready for publication. The following pages are only a collection of essays and sketches on the manners of my time, and reminiscences of the very many people in all ranks of society whom I have met. It has been occasionally inevitable that I should talk about myself in connection with the Things which I have witnessed and the People whom I have come in contact with; but I have done my best to present my own individuality only in the form of a peg on which objects of real interest might be suspended.
